QIBT Program: Diploma of Commerce

I came all the way from Sao Paulo, Brazil to further my education, improve my English and experience Australia.

I heard about QIBT from an educational agent in Brazil who knew Australia, QIBT and Griffith University. QIBT is located on Griffith University and most of the lecturers come from there. The advantage of QIBT is the smaller number of students per class that allows a closer relationship between students and lecturers.

By the end of the course, QIBT issues a document - the Diploma. The majority of the students then progress onto the second year at Griffith University.

The thing I liked best about QIBT was the multicultural classes, with students coming from all over the world - especially from Asia. I also enjoyed the physical structure, which provides comfortable classrooms, new computer labs, sports facilities, cafeteria, bookshop and a respectable library.

Brisbane has lots of green areas, sunny days, beautiful beaches and plenty of entertainment. The food is wonderful and satisfies all tastes. From the spicy Indian curry to the traditional Japanese sushi, visiting the many restaurants is a delightful way to know different cultures. As in Australia, I had to try kangaroo steak; good experience! As an option, my housemates and I cooked at home - it was good fun!

I do recommend living in a shared house. My experience couldn't be better, as my two housemates were spectacular persons. We used to have fun and also solve our problems together. Those were the best days of my life.

One of my aspirations is to live and work overseas for a multinational company and later, have my own business. Queensland Institute of Business and Technology (QIBT) will help me achieving these goals providing knowledge through the Diploma of Commerce.
